

Digital Art Environmental Bag Design

Students created photo and text collages in Photoshop as a way to communicate statements about the environment. In order to reinforce and promote responsible and conservationist practices, students made reusable canvas bags featuring their designs.

